THE RUMORS WERE TRUE. NEW DATA CONFIRMS THAT THE DDR DISC IS 5g LIGHTER THAN ITS WESTERN COUNTERPART.
A significant difference by any measure.

KÖLN, NRW, August 2024 - Corbett vs. Dempsey and Studio Williams announce that Radio Play is available on Long Play Vinyl for the first time. The double disc set contains two adaptations of Inklusive.

Inklusive is a play written by Bavarian playwright Franz Xaver Kroetz. It is part of a trilogy of radio plays from 1971 titled Trilogie Münchener Lebens. The play was first broadcast in former West Germany on Südwestfunk in 1972. A second version was broadcast in former East Germany on Rundfunk der DDR in 1974. The West and East German broadcasts are the basis for these two radio play adaptations by artist Christopher Williams. Both adaptations were recorded in German using the similar technology used to produce the original broadcasts of 1972 and 1974.

Eva Mattes (o.k., The Bitter Tears of Petra von Kant) is an actress born in Tegernsee. Sebastian Bezzel (Tatort, Eberhoferkrimis) is an actor from Garmisch-Partenkirchen. Norbert Stöß (Abschnitt 40) is an actor born in Dresden. Andreas Leupold (The Human Centipede) is an actor from East Berlin. Rüdiger Carl is a free improvising musician born in Goldap, East Prussia. Mo Stern (Panorama Bar at Berghain) is a sound engineer, visual artist, DJ, and music producer born in Hamburg. Franz Xaver Kroetz is a playwright, actor, and director from Munich. Christopher Williams is a Los Angeles-born artist and professor of photography who lives and works in Cologne. Maximilian Klemens Sängler is an artist and filmmaker based in Düsseldorf.
